

Florian Hohlheimer, here in his office at the "Warwick Estate Agents" in London:

“My work placement is still more than I had ever hoped for in a positive way. My tasks are still pretty diverse, ranging from writing e-mails to making phone calls or the occasional house viewing with clients. I really admire my supervisor's selling or rather marketing abilities during the viewings. The other team members are really friendly too, in total I have made about 3.5 hours small talk this week.

In addition I really love my host family and the food is still amazing. I also like the easy commuting route and riding the Over/Underground as this is giving me a lot of time to listen to music and look at all the different people riding with me.”

